the defence ministry quoted wang as telling

"when you don’t have a specific system, people come up with their own," she explains every surface is covered in high gloss metallic paint with the super structure in a starburst white metallic paint that gives the z44 a finish no other manufacturer is utilising.